

Dear friends, colleagues, and supporters of AIDASCO,

We've been reflecting on our journey as we start another year at AIDASCO Reviews. It's tough to sum up all our hopes and emotions in a few sentences. Still, our motivation has always been driven by the vibrant energy of young, innovative, and accomplished individuals who've contributed to past editions of AIDASCO Reviews. This ongoing narrative is a testament to that essence – a story we've carried, vividly capturing the changes, emotions, ideas, and dreams in this first issue of 2024.

In the past year, 2023, we asked ourselves: How much are we willing to risk to discover ourselves truly? The path to those answers was filled with beautiful yet challenging moments, marking a new beginning—a departure from the past. These moments dispelled fears, brought new dreams, and guided us to unexplored territories where we absorbed fresh ideas and allowed ourselves to dream.

We envisioned AIDASCO Reviews to represent perseverance and consistency. Starting a journal is daunting, but it's even more challenging to constantly release new issues and handle all the responsibilities that come with it. Therefore, we're delighted to begin a new year with a fresh Issue of AIDASCO Reviews. Once again, we've received incredible support from young individuals and their mentors. This pushes us further and inspires us to keep pursuing our publishing goals.

The path to success is often long and winding, with numerous routes. Persistence is one of these routes, and we hope to convey this message in this issue.

Warmest regards from the AIDASCO team,

Maria M. Savanović, Sanja J. Armaković,
and Stevan Armaković
